"After 25 years, we still loved the design of our custom kitchen, but it showed signs of wear. Thankfully, the TLC crew was able to erase the signs of time, and give us what truly looks like a new kitchen! They removed all the doors and drawer fronts and took them off-site to a spray paint booth where they applied a factory-like finish of white paint. Four days later, our kitchen had a totally fresh look at a small fraction of the cost of new cabinets."

Buying or selling a home?

"Painting is the most cost-effective way to prepare your home for sale. Buyers want to see homes in move-in condition—they don't have the time or desire to undertake the work themselves. Almost always, homes sell much faster and the seller is able to protect the home's value."
